The Abaco Club Plans to Add The Cays Villas

The Abaco Club's expansion includes The Bay Club (above) and private beachfront villas called The Cays (bottom).

THE ABACO CLUB, an exclusive lifestyle club and resort-style community situated along the shores of Winding Bay in the Bahamas, has plans to add 36 beachfront villa residences known as The Cays. Developed and managed by Southworth Development, the private Bahamian club's expansion also includes a beach club with an oceanfront pool, new wellness offerings, and an alfresco restaurant, The Beach House.

The Cays is set to redefine barefoot luxury—from Caribbean glamour to classic Bahamian architecture—with master planning and landscape by Vita, Inc. and interiors by design firm AvroKO. Accommodations will range from beachfront studio lofts to seven-bedroom villas. Each private retreat blends indoor and outdoor spaces with wrapped porches, kitchens that extend to an open-air terrace, breezy courtyards, and swaying hammocks.

Extraordinary amenities promote daily family fun and amazing experiences. Owners can walk nearly everywhere to indulge in the wide variety of offerings at The Abaco Club, whether they're seeking a round of golf, a refreshing dip in the pool, or sundowners on the beach. Members will also have access to The Bay Club, planned for completion in 2023, which will feature an expansive oceanfront pool, hot tub, poolside bar, multi-use cinema room, lounge, and concierge services. This comes on the heels of The Abaco Club's recent fitness center renovation, as well as the development of new pickleball and basketball courts.

"The Cays offer a truly unique opportunity for future members to join this special community we've cultivated—another place to call home," says Tommy Southworth, president of Southworth Development. "The Abaco Club is a haven for our members and owners. Between the breathtaking location, the barefoot luxury vibe, the warmth of the staff, and so many other intangibles, we've always said that The Abaco Club has everything that money can't buy." theabacoclub.com
